

RUINS OF 131 PREHISTORIC Indian abodes have been uncovered by archaeologists in diggings close by Cahokia mounds. Here in well-defined outline are the evidences of occupancy, showing the oval fire basins, the floor levels, the contour of the houses, sometimes enclosed by larger council or ceremonial chambers. This is the excavation near the intersection of Route 111 and U. S. 40. In the background are the road-building machines now to cover the diggings in the construction of a right-of-way. The Cahokia probe has been hailed for its discovery of the largest number of pre-Columbian Indian structures found in one excavation in North America. The companion dig has already been filled in by road crews.

Archaeologists Explore 'Rich' Find In Area

Pre-Columbian Indian village sites dating back to a period of from 800 to around 1500 A. D. unearthed during the summer—have had their brief day in the sun of concentrated archaeological probes and soon will be re-interred, less than two miles from the Quad-Cities.

Rights-of-way of Highway 41A and Interstate 70 now under construction will soon, under a shoveling of pavement, forever obliterate all tracings of the mid-part sites on Horseshoe Lake's eastern shore.

One excavated site has already succumbed to the earthmoving giant.

Other roadbuilding behemoths are standing at-ready as the second area is being diagrammed, measured, photographed and fine tooth-combed for artifacts.

131 House Sites

Commencing in April, a team of archaeologists and crews of 40 excavators, have uncovered 131 prehistoric Indian houses at the neighboring twin sites. The find has been hailed as the largest number of prehistoric structures to be uncovered on one operation on the North American continent.

Digging centered on a sector of old Sand Prairie Lane road and what is known as the Cahokia road, within the shadow of the pyramidal Cahokia ceremonial mounds, near Collinsville. Excavations covered a 300,000 square foot area.

In recent years, corn and hawthorn grew on the heavy brown clay and muck soil.

Work, which has gone forward under direction of the Illinois State Museum, was to end this week. Then, the roadmakers will take over completely.

12,000 Population

The villages were built by Indians of the Mississippi or " bluff" culture. Over a century of centuries, by conservative estimate, the Cahokia population was upwards of 12,000. They were their lasting memorials.

Dwellings and ceremonial and council rooms or chambers were of natural materials, clay that, interwoven grasses and other fibers. Wooden stakes driven into the ground formed the pile-like support. Inside the walled and roofed structures.

Moderate Turnout In Today's Election

Expect Over 5000 Votes In Manager Election; Precinct Confusion

Ballooning moderate turnout today as Granite City voters go to the polls to vote on a proposal for city manager government. The polls will remain open in the city's 21 precincts until 6 o'clock this evening.

A check of a number of polling places about noon today showed voting was below normal, but election judges expect an upturn this afternoon. In the last regular city election, April 8, 1950, 7818 votes were cast.

As expected, considerable confusion resulted today as the election is being carried out in the city's own 21 precincts, which vary greatly from the lines set for the county's 28 precincts. As noted in the Nov. 8 general election, in the Nov. 3, 1950, off-year city election, the tally was 6475. The noon survey today showed heaviest voting in the city's own 21 precincts, found their county registration cards, issued this past morning, did not give the right precinct numbers for today's vote.

Man Forced Into Car, Robbed of $485 By Trio

J. W. "Bluebird" Hayes, 38, of 1301 Edwardsville road, Granite City, reported to Venice Madison police he had been robbed of $485 and his billfold Friday night after being forced into a car and driven to a spot he described as "by the river near Venice," by two men and a woman.

Hayes had been at a Madison avenue tavern where he said he met the trio, and according to Venice police, had been drinking. The barkeep at the Red Crown Liquor store told officers that Hayes had been in his place during a major portion of the afternoon and had been talking with a number of patrons. He returned late in the evening.

Venice Police Chief Robert Trower said a joint probe of the kidnapping and robbery had been launched in cooperation with the Madison police department.

Hayes described the men as wearing work clothes. Standing about 5 feet, 9 inches and 6 feet 10 inches. He told police they were between 25 and 30, weighing about 180. The woman, he reported, was around 25 to 28, wore a blue skirt and short jacket.

In reports filed in both cities police records, Hayes is quoted as saying:

"I was in the tavern (Red Crown), and I walked back through the back room and as I went out of the back door of the tavern building, I was grabbed with a 'bear hug' and forced into a light gray 1949 or 1951 two-door car by two men and a woman."

"They took me out by the river near Venice and robbed me of my brown leather wallet, about $485 in cash, a package of cigarettes, and I walked back to Venice."

Special Ceremony Wednesday At River Dam Site

A special ceremony to symbolize the start of construction of the river's portion of the new navigation dam No. 27, about 80 feet south of the Chain of Rocks river bridge, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday. It was announced today by Col. Alfred J. D'Arce, district engineer for U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis.

The program will be highlighted with remarks by guests and band music and will be climaxed with the dropping of one of the sixteen stones in the river. The dam is being built of stone.

Purpose of the dam is to hold back water to provide nine feet of water over the lower sill of the river locks at Alton, where difficulties have been encountered by river traffic during low stages of the river.

When the $300,000 structure is completed, river navigation will be able to proceed through the Alton locks without the necessity of lightening loads or of transferring loads from barge to barge, as has been the practice during low-water periods in recent years.

est value, however, have been the opportunities to make scientific study of the pre-Columbian Indians "at home," to learn more of the aborigines who occupied the villages and their cultures, Bareis says.

The diggings indicate the sites were large areas occupied over a period of some 800 years. In undertaking the Cahokia area diggings, test trenches were first run down to the sub-soil. Then, at five-foot intervals, stakes were set out and from these guides the slow, painstaking work proceeded.

Small trowels and brushes came into play as the ruins were uncovered. But a handful of earth is removed at a time, better to sift and find artifacts. There is minute inspection of every square inch of earth on which the Indian villages stood. Clearly defined are the square, oblong, triangular and somewhat circular outlines of the structures, the oval basins, other indentations and earthen boundary walls. So are the fire levels.

Apparently lacking a master plan, construction was helterskelter. Outlines of large rooms enclosed collections of smaller buildings.

Odd "Z" and "T" patterns are in evidence. Unearthing of the sites was not a "discovery." Archaeologists were long convinced of the existence of the Cahokia villages. The archaeological project was initiated, however, when construction of new Interstate 50 threatened a large segment of the site with destruction. Then followed the detailed scientific study of the unknown Treibsen.

To make the chronological probe and to uncover artifacts, the archaeologists and crews preceded the roadmen—sometimes comingling, albeit. The archaeologists were given 10 weeks to do their job.

Russell A. Horn, grading superintendent for S. J. Groves and Son, the Minneapolis highway contractor, said portion of Horseshoe Lake was drained to build the rights-of-way. He estimated at $1,000,000 a mile east of road construction over the village sites. Roadbuilding, he figured, should continue to mid-December. The old Sand Prairie Lane area, which was dug under direction of Dr. Wittry, has already been filled by graders. Bareis is completing the work at nearby Canteen road-way site.

To Springfield Museum. The artifacts are to be taken to the museum at Springfield. The research data, measurements, photographs, detailed diagrams and volumes of field notes of the project go to the capital and to Champaign for future study, cataloguing, integration and to be carefully analyzed and digested by archaeologists and students.

The Indian villagers are presumed to have helped build the Cahokia "temple" mounds, including Great Cahokia, the largest man-made prehistoric earthwork in the western hemisphere. They were an agricultural people, supplementing their diet by fish, wildlife, nuts, roots and berries. The Indians were not given to human sacrificial rites, such as the pre-Columbian tribes in Mexico and Central America. Out of the excavations will come papers, dissertations, illustrated publications and learned treatise on the Quad-Cities' nearby neighbors of 12 centuries ago.

This will form a record for today and for posterity. It will be about a year until a final, comprehensive report is made, explains Dr. Thorpe Duet, museum director. The undertaking was in a large measure a laboratory not only for the professional archaeologists, but of students of this arm of learning. Dr. Wittry's assistants included students and instructors from the University of Wisconsin and Western Illinois University. Bareis' assistant included colleagues from the mid-west and the eastern seaboard.

Girl Scouts Kick Off Cookie Sale Saturday

The semi-annual Tri-City Girl Scout Council cookie sale begins Saturday following a kick-off meeting for the girls and their leaders at the Washington Theater.

In recent years the council has made a practice of conducting the sale twice a year, due to the growth of the Girl Scout enrollment in the Tri-Cities area. Intermediate and Junior Girl Scouts will be participating in the fall sale; members of the younger Brownie troops conducted the sale this spring.

Proceeds from the cookie sale supplement troop and council budgets, affording each Girl Scout the opportunity to earn her own re-registration fee. A portion is made a part of the Camp Lakota improvement fund. The camping area, near Glen Carbon, now includes a permanent winter lodge which the Tri-City Council is still in the process of paying.

A member agency of the local United Fund, the Girl Scout council has no other independent source of income than the proceeds from the sale of cookies.

GC vs. Alton; Club Hears Comparisons

Alton, under a city manager plan, is a city manager, under its mayor-council system of government, were compared Thursday noon at the luncheon of the Noonday Optimist at the Elks club.

Dr. Alton came out decidedly second best.

William Beatty, city attorney for Granite City, in a talk in which he came out against a change-over to a managerial plan of municipal operation for Granite City, cited Alton.

Alton has had a city manager for the past two years, he told, and in the first year its budget went up by $50,000; in the second, the increase was up to around $200,000.

Atty. Beatty said during the period Granite City had a surplus in its treasury.

He said managers of new executive-level employees were hired at Alton.

The attorney, however, premised his main objection to the managerial system on its method of electing council members. Under the present system, which he characterized as "more democratic," aldermen are elected by Granite City wards. Under the managerial system, they are elected at-large.

This, Atty. Beatty argued, is a less representative system of naming councilmen.

Stubborn Granite City Overhauled By Flyers, 25-6

East St. Louis Rallies From 6-0 Deficit For 6th Win

A crippled but determined Granite City squad, capitalizing on sloppy ball-handling and fumbles, played over confident East St. Louis to a 6-6 deadlock for one half at Parsons Field Friday night, but the heavily favored Flyers had everything their own way in the second half and marched on to a 23-6 Southwestern conference victory.

The win gave Fred Cameron's team a 3-0 record in conference play and a perfect 6-0 slate for the season. The Flyers needed the game, since Collinsville stayed tied with striking distance by defeating Edwardsville 20-14 in the only other conference game played Friday. The Rebels are 3-0-1 in SWC competition.

After a scoreless first quarter which saw Andy Sullivan's Warriors penetrate to the Flyer 33 before a fumble which they recovered themselves, an illegal procedure penalty and a five-yard loss stopped a well-conducted drive. Granite City drew first blood in the second period.

The Flyers threatened in the closing seconds of the first quarter when GC punter Jeff Valencia had a bad snap from center sail over his head. The ball went over to East St. Louis on the GC 34.

But the second of two Flyer fumbles was snipped up by the alert Warriors on their own 33. In fifteen plays the Redmen had pushed across a score.

Featuring the running of Bob Berry and John Grobolski and a well-executed fly pass play with quarterback Larry Noblen pitching and end Bob Hoffek catching the Warriors picked up five first downs in their only sustained drive of the evening.

Grobolski Scores
Noblen passed to his other end, Pat Schuman, to set up a first and goal situation on the host's four. Grobolski led the one-foot line, then carried over on the next play.

A flea-flicker pass for the extra point — Noblen to Schuman — apparently worked perfectly, but two officials signaling the PAT good. The teams were walking back toward their respective benches when an official's flag hit the ground and the seventh GC point was ruled no good.

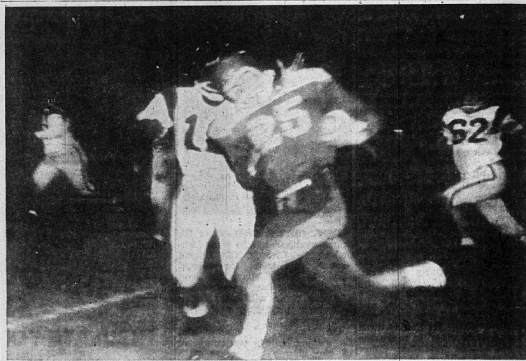

From that point on the breaka began to go in favor of the Flyers, who still hadn't recovered from a bad unit of fumbles by halftime. Dave Sparks pounced on Comby Perry's fumble on the Flyer 48 immediately after the kickoff, but the Warriors couldn't go anywhere this time, and a Noblen pass intended for Hoffek was picked off by Woods, who raced to the Granite City 28 before he was dropped.

It was just the break the Flyers needed. Quarterback Jim Basarich, playing in place of the injured Bill Moxley, handed off to bread and butter gainer Rufus Jones four straight times, and the hard-headed halfback battered his way to a first and goal situation on the Granite City five.

Flyers Tie Score
D. C. Brooks made one yard and then Jones stunted on the right side and into the end zone to tie the score with just 40 seconds remaining in the first half. Little Al Stroter's kick for extra point was wide.

Granite fumbled on the first play after the ensuing kickoff, and the Flyers' Mike Thompson recovered on GC 44-yard line. Time ran out before the Blue and Orange could get a play off however.

The clubs exchanged downs series and punts in the third period before East St. Louis mounted a sustained drive midway through the period, with ROXANA HALFBACK Doug Thompson (25), grimaces but keeps driving hard as Madison's Carl Drayton (partially obscured) moves in to stop the Shell player after he had picked up 12 yards on a sweeping run in the second quarter of Roxana's 13-0 win over the Trojans in Madison Friday night. Thompson later scored a touchdown. No. 62 at right is Madison's Norm Stewar.

Jones, Hanks and Brooks taking turns in carrying the ball to the Warrior 30. Basarich hit end Jim Long with a pass in a crucial third and eight situation to give the Flyers new life only 17 yards from the end zone.

Long Snags TD Pass
Basarich bootlegged to the GC six, and one play later found Long in the end zone with a TD pass which put the Flyers ahead to stay. A pass for the extra point fell incomplete and the hosts led 12-6.

With Sparks now in a quarterback's role in a quarterback, Granite City held possession until the end of the third quarter. Valencia punted to Flyer 41 early in the final stanza, but Granite City got the ball back when Bob Hoffek intercepted a Basarich aerial at the midfield stripe.

The breaks continued to go against the Warriors. Another Valencia punt was picked up by Perry, who was hit and fumbled. Bob Kary scooped up the loose football and scooted into the end zone, but the ball had been called dead by the officials although no whistle had been blown.

The Flyers took over on their own 20. In 11 plays they marched 60 yards for another score, with Jones carrying the drive on a plunge for the final three yards. He got the ball again on the try for extra point, made the necessary two yards, and East St. Louis led 19-6.

Long Tallies Again
Basarich flipped another scoring pass to Long in the final two minutes of play to add just a bit of length to the cake and make the final score read 25-6.

The game marked the 13th consecutive year in which Flyers teams have emerged on top in contests with the Warriors. Sullivan was not at all pleased with the officiating in the game, and was on the field several times to relay his feelings to the men in the striped shirts.

Prep Cross-Country District Meet Draws 15 Team Entries

Granite City is one of 15 area high schools which will enter full complements of runners in the prep district cross-country meet, to be held on a two-mile course in Alton on Saturday.

The Redbirds are favored to wrest the district title to Edwardsville and, if successful, will send their complete team to Champaign and the state meet on Nov. 5. The team that places second in the final point standings also travels to Champaign, as do the top five individual finishers, regardless of the position where their respective schools finish.

Joining Coach Dick Harmon's thirteenth in the 10 a.m. district run will be athletes from Alton, Belleville, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville and Wood River in the Southwestern conference, Bethalto, Cahokia, Dupu and Roxana from the Midwestern league, and Triad, Waterloo, Litchfield and Jerseyville from outside conferences.

Close to 100 runners are expected to compete if each school sends full, seven-man teams to the event.

Bags 1st Deer With Bow And Arrow Sunday

The first successful deer hunt with bow and arrow by a Granite Cityan this fall was reported today following the return of William Lore, 2917 Edgewood avenue, from a solo hunting trip in southern Missouri on Sunday.

Lore, a cartographer with a St. Louis aeronautical chart firm who had hunted unsuccessfully the past two seasons with bow and arrow, bagged a two-point buck in the first 45 minutes of his Sunday morning outing.

The kill was made from a distance of about 200 feet near "Salmon Creek" and dressed out at 170 pounds. It was Lore's first, with rifle or bow and arrow.

Commented Mrs. Lore this morning: "I've never cooked venison before, but it looks like I'll have to learn now."

Last-Minute Scores In Second, Fourth Quarters Boost Roxana Shells To 13-0 Win Over Madison

"Better late than never" might serve as Roxana's high school football coach, Earl McLane's motto. His Shells scored once with 12 seconds remaining in the first half, then added an insurance touchdown in the final minute of the game in Madison Friday night in handing the Trojans their fourth loss of the season, 13-0.

The same watchword might typify Cahokia's come-lately Comanches, who found themselves in first place in the Midwestern conference today after upsetting Dups 13-6 Friday night.

The Tigers' loss dropped them into a two-way tie for second place with Roxana. Both teams have 3-1 records, while the Comanches are 3-0. Madison is now 1-2-1, while Highland and Bethalto remain at the bottom of the conference ladder after struggling to a 6-6 tie Friday. Both have lost three conference contests.

McLane was grinding his teeth in the early going in Madison Friday. Roxana, a pre-game favorite from anywhere from two to four touchdowns, ineptly fumbled away opportunity after opportunity during the first half, and it took a circus chain at the Madison end zone by end Ron Thomas before the Shell finally struck oil.

Roxana ballcarriers bobbed the pigskin five times in the first 20 minutes of play, and Madison, unable to generate any offensive steam, alertly recovered on three occasions to stop the visitors' side-saddle T attack.

An early Shell threat was halted on the Trojan 14-yard line in the first quarter after Roxana had driven that far from their own 36 in just 11 plays. Roxana dominated play through the first half, and outside of a 28-yard gain on a pass from Mick Gravitte to end Ed Walker in the first quarter, Madison just couldn't get going.

When the Trojans finally got the ball back with less than a minute until the halftime break Gravitte took to the air again, snail quarterback Bruce Kunt doubling as a defensive safety,

With the Shells calling time out after every play and McLane giving detailed instructions on just what to do next, Roxana moved 45 yards for a score.

Thomas snagged one pass for 14 yards. Doug Thompson picked up 16 yards, the old statue of liberty play netted seven more, and then Thomas sneaked behind Ken Griggs in the end zone and hauled in Kunt's toss, making a 12-yard leaping catch to account for the final 18 yards and the first score of the game.

Thompson was stopped just short of the goal line on the try for extra point by the middle of Madison's defensive line, and it was 6-0 Roxana at the half.

Glen Pickering's charges opened up a bit in the third period. After taking over on their own 23, the Trojans ground out 60 yards in 16 plays, each the Shell 17.

There the drive died, and with it, Madison's hopes of tying the score.

Playing smart, possession football, Roxana inched back up the field in the fourth quarter, intercepted with 53 seconds left on the clock.

giving up the ball only once, and then for only one series of downs by the Trojans.

Thomas didn't score, the visiting first six-punter, but a pass from Kuntz gained 20 yards and set up the Shells' final drive on the Madison 15. Kuntz took to the airways seven times in the final 12 minutes, usually after the explosive running of Thompson or Larry Thomas had tightened up Madison's defense, and connected on four occasions.

Thompson and Larry Thomas alternated at carrying the ball in from the Madison 15 to the 10, and Kuntz spread things off a bit when he heaved another pass intended for Ron Thomas near the corner of the end zone.

The play was broken up, but Kuntz sent Thompson straight ahead on the following maneuver, and the right halfback barged into the end zone standing up with 42 seconds left in the game.

Larry Thomas added what was now an unneeded extra point on a two-yard plunge.

Madison's best weapon all evening was the toe of Carl Drayton, who was called on to punt on five occasions and averaged 37.4 yards per try.

Kuntz and Ed Parsons, who took turns tossing for Roxana, had a good evening in the air, with the quick jump pass, played especially well against Madison. Together they completed nine of 15 passes good for 104 yards.

The starting lineups:
Madison Pos. Roxana
Cooper LE Dugan

Schlitz Back In 2nd Place Following Position Round

Granite City's Bowland Schlitz moved back into second place in the Southern Trophy Classic league Saturday night at the Touchette Lanes in East St. Louis with a 2-1 win over Reverse Hook which had previously occupied that position.

Alton Palatka's, defending league champion, picked up ground on everybody, however, by sweeping three games from Ridley First to take a 3½ game lead over Schlitz.

Other results in the first position round of the season were Carlings over Rusty's, and L.A. Bowlers Shop over Pepp's. Both by 2-1. High marks were Palatka's 2970, Pepp's 1750, and a 705 series by Ray.

Warrior Sophs Trip Madison Team 38-0

Granite City's sophomore football squad scored in every period, held a 14-0 halftime lead and went on to beat Madison high school's second-year crew in Madison Thursday afternoon, 38-0.

Madison's frosh-soph team tangles with Highland there tonight at 7, and the Little Warriors visit East St. Louis for a sophomore game this afternoon, 38-0.

Or of Palatka and Gene Kempers' 233 game for Loman's. Jim Venrick's 612 series was tops for the local squad, which will host the league at the Bowland lanes Saturday night. The Schlitz scores: Venrick 232, 213, 220, 672; Max Legate 200, 182, 213, 595; George Wolfe 212, 181, 197, 590; Ray Hoffman 164, 213, 172, 550; Jim Berry 179, 188, 174, 541.

Airport For Local Area To Be Aired At St. Louis Meet

Proposals for development and construction of a second Greater St. Louis area airport—this one to be east of the river bank—will be aired at a conference called for Nov. 2 by the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Quadrants representatives invited to participate are Granite City Mayor Leonard Davis, Comdr. John L. Barron, general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority, and Harlan Doherty, manager of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce.

Likewise issued invitations are representatives of the Bi-State Development Agency, the city and county of St. Louis and area Chambers of Commerce.

Close to a year ago, the St. Louis C. of C. pointed out, suggestions had been advanced for several possible sites for a major air facility on the Illinois side of the Mississippi.

Four-Point Program

In a four-point statement accompanying the call, the C. of C. noted:

No. 1, while the operational need for a second major airport is not yet here, the need to reserve land for such a facility is urgent; (2) the considerations of air space control and others all point to the Illinois portion of the area as the logical location; (3) as a practical matter, only public or governmental bodies can build and operate a major airport; (4) the opportunities for incorporating industrial development activities in the second major airport project offer an interesting area of exploration.

The C. of C. added: "We realize there may well be other plans and approaches to solving this metropolitan problem, and it is for this reason we have invited interested community and civic leaders to meet with the Chamber's air board."

Merry Yule At Foster Home, Lions Club Aim

Madison Lions, as they completed plans for this weekend's benefit Broom Sale, likewise looked ahead to the Yule season and the children in foster-homes when Santa Claus is not expected to call.

Meeting Thursday night at the Sportman's Club, the Madison service club initiated a move to have all Madison county Lions clubs join in Christmas present giving to orphans who live in foster homes.

Numbers of them, it was emphasized, are unlikely to receive a bountiful outpouring of presents, since they have no immediate kin.

Therefore, Lions of Madison, Venice, Wood River, Collinsville and Troy are expected to join in providing clothing and other items of wearing apparel and children's Christmas presents for them, according to Fred Duffin.

Friday and Saturday are the dates of the Broom Sale, and Friday night, a Lions float, embellished and freighted with brooms, is expected to make the rounds of the Tri-Cities. Other sales spurs will be, to the fore, to swell the number of brooms sold.

'Stolen' Auto Misplaced? Or Nonexistent?

Police didn't waste much time on a man who called them about 6 a.m. to report his auto had been stolen.

The motorless motorist, who apparently had been drinking, didn't know the make or model or even the vicinity where he might have parked it. He had telephoned from a restaurant at 17th street and Madison avenue. Police commented they were doubtful he even had a car.

1134 Apply For Absentee Ballots For Nov. 8 Voting

Many voters, who will be out of the county on Nov. 8, are voting absentee ballots. County Clerk Eulalia Hotz said today. Her office has received 1134 applications for absentee ballots to date, while Lee township is the only one from which no applications have been received.

Only seven of the 159 precincts do not have absentee applications filed. All township applicants total 249 to date while 189 absentee ballots have been applied for in Wood River township. Granite City has 160 applicants and Edwardsville is fourth with 155.

Any properly registered voter who anticipates being out of Madison county on election day, may apply for an absentee ballot directly to the county clerk's office in Edwardsville by mail or in person. Miss Hotz said, explaining applications by mail must be received on or before Nov. 3. The statute further permits absentee voting in person in the county clerk's office through Nov. 5. Since Nov. 5 falls on Saturday, the law requires the county clerk to keep the office open from 9 a.m. to noon for absentee voting. The hours Monday through Friday are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., keeping open during the noon hour.

Physically incapacitated voters now may vote even though confined to their home or a hospital or nursing home in the county of their residence. A special application form must be secured from the county clerk's office and also an affidavit from the family physician, or the reader in the case of members of the Christian Science Church, to complete. Both application and affidavit must be filed with the county clerk on or before Nov. 3.

If a person plans to be out of the county on election day, and votes an absentee ballot, then finds he is in the county on Nov. 8, he is required to go to his proper precinct polls and vote in person and ask the judges of election to cancel the absentee ballot when it is delivered to the polls by the county clerk.

A list of all the applicants for absentee ballots is posted on the door of the county clerk's office, showing residence of the absentee ballot applicant and to what address the ballot is mailed.

The only persons permitted to vote absentee ballot without being registered are those in the "United States Service." That term includes:

Members of the Armed Forces while in the active service and their spouses and dependents.

Members of the merchant marine of the United States, and their spouses and dependents.

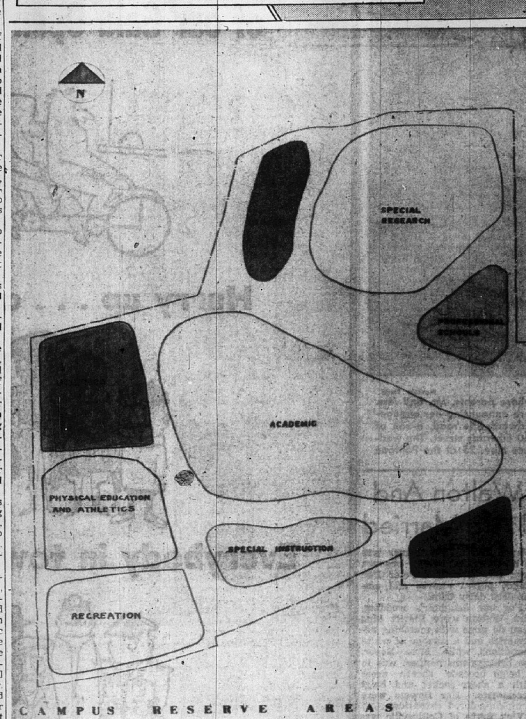

Civilian employees of the United States in all grades, serving outside the territorial limits of the several states of the United States and the District of Columbia and their spouses and dependents, when residing with or accompanying them, whether or not the employee is subject to the civil service laws and the Classification Act of 1949 and whether or not paid from funds appropriated by the Congress.

Members of religious groups or welfare agencies assisting members of the Armed Forces, who are officially attached to and serving the Armed Forces, and their spouses and dependents.

Four ballots are given the voter, namely the candidate ballot, printed in black ink; the University Bond Issue ballot printed in blue ink; the Mental Health and Other State Owned Public Welfare Institutions Bond Issue printed in brown ink; and the County Health Department ballot is printed in green ink. All ballots are white opaque paper. Judges of election are required to hand one of each of the four ballots to the voter, and he must return all four ballots, after voting to the judge to deposit in the ballot box.

Miss Hotz said many persons inquire as to whether the judge of election has authority to place the ballots in the ballot box for the voter or whether the voter himself deposits the ballots. The statute very clearly requires the voter to hand the ballots to the judge who immediately deposits them in the ballot box.

Quadrants will be either driving to or from work in darkness. Daylight time started on the last Sunday of April, when clocks were advanced one hour.

(This is the fourth in a series of six articles prepared by the Southern Illinois University staff on architects' and engineers' master planning for SIU's Southwestern campus between the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville.)

Southern Illinois University's new campus in Southwestern Illinois was planned to take the fullest advantage of diverse topographical features.

Located between Edwardsville and the confluence of the Mississippi and Mississippi Rivers, the 2600-acre campus site includes terrain ranging from rolling wooded hills above the river bluffs to flat land in the American bottoms.

The center of the site with its wooded upland was designated as the area best suited for the instructional facilities of the major academic program. This section of the campus adjoining U. S. Highway 66 (By-Pass) is readily available by automobile.

Utilities will be located in the bottom land of the site's southwest confines.

Designated as best suited for physical education, athletics and recreational facilities is a section of the American bottoms in the southwest portion of the campus. This section of the site is bisected by an all-weather road running along the foot of the river bluffs from U. S. By-Pass 66 to Pogue road.

Space for special research and professional schools is being reserved in the northern section of the site facing the city of Edwardsville. This area is bordered by a concrete road connecting Pogue and Edwardsville. Service facilities such as physical plant and maintenance will be located along the Illinois Terminal Railroad which forms the southern boundary of the campus. Adjacent to the railroad is a high tension line.

Special instruction facilities will be located in the southern part of the campus between the academic and the physical education and recreation areas. Unlimited water supply is available in the water table of the Mississippi bottoms adjoining the campus on the west.

The amount of surface water available is adequate for the development of natural lakes.

Miss Gloria Lee Worthen And Chas. W. Ludwig Wed

Miss Gloria Lee Worthen became the bride of Charles Walter Ludwig Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. John Barrett heard the pair exchange vows at the 11:30 nuptial ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Worthen Jr., 2511 Sheridan avenue. Mr. Ludwig's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ludwig of Monroe City, Mo.

Bouquets of white chrysanthemums and fern were arranged in the sanctuary and the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage.

The wedding gown was fashioned of white satin with a high pleated waist and a full bell skirt which terminated in a graceful chapel train. The entire bodice of Alençon lace had a modified scoop neck edged in hair pin lace scallops. Seed pearls and iridescent sequins embroidered the neckline and wrist points of the long sleeves. A twelve-point queue of crown, crystals and pearls secured the baby breath-nylon veiling which fell fingertip length. White orchids and white roses made up the bridal bouquet.

Miss Patricia Parkinson, maid of honor, wore a spruce green velvet dress with a scoop neckline and cap sleeves. Made on princess lines, it had a bell-shaped skirt hemmed with fourteen inches of satin with swab-buckle bows at the front and back hemlines. Her headpiece was a version of the queen's crown with scalloped pearl mounts and sheer nylon veiling. The crown, veiling and satin pumps were identical in color to the dress. Her bouquet was a cascade of bronze 'mums.

Miss Sheri Little, a cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, was similarly attired in emerald green. Her flowers were yellow 'mums. Historical Society Seeks To Delay Museum Move

An appeal to the Madison County board of supervisors not to move the county museum from the court house until adequate quarters are found was made last week at Edwardsville by Burton Bernard, local attorney and past president of the Madison County Historical Society.

Bernard pointed out the museum has been in the court house for 26 years, and that the plan to eliminate its quarters to provide additional space for the circuit court is not as urgent since the court has the latest backing of unheard cases in its history.

"The request was taken under advisement by the board."

County Medical Society Head Answers Board's Resolution

Proponents of the Madison County Health Department which will be voted on Nov. 8th have issued an answer to the six-point resolution adopted last week by the Madison County Board of supervisors in which the board resolved unanimously to disapprove and encourage the defeat of the proposed Health Department.

Dr. B. B. Berman, local pediatrician and president of the Madison County Medical Society, which has endorsed the establishment of a Madison County Health Department, answered the board's resolution point for point.

"The last paragraph of the resolution passed by the Madison County Board of supervisors," Dr. Berman said, "would indicate that up to the present time, no study has been made by the board, to determine the need and feasibility of a County Health Department; and to ascertain details as to the cost. In spite of this omission on the part of the board, facts and figures are presented which would lead one to believe that such a study had been made."

"The first portion of the board's resolution calls for a committee to be appointed to study the feasibility and need for a Madison County Health Department; and to ascertain details as to the cost thereof. The resolution calls for the action, by the board, that the Health Department should be defeated Nov. 8th.

$120 Per Capita Cost
"Speaking in reference to the $400,000 figure the county maintains in the resolution will be the cost of a Madison County Health Department, Dr. Berman explained, "The resolution cites the maximum mill levy under County Health Department Law." He said, "that rather than the 35 percent maximum levy, a more accurate figure would be .025 percent or about $120 per capita for Madison County."

Dr. Berman also explained that the state of Illinois would provide 1/3 of the total cost of a Health Department, that is, for every $3 dollars the county provides, that state will put in one dollar. The experience of other counties similar in size to Madison has shown that the estimated cost of a health department would be 1/3 of that cited by the board last Wednesday.

"The county supervisors maintained in the resolution that approximately 100 employees would be needed for the new department," Dr. Berman continued, "A more accurate maximum figure would be 50, and it seems probable that this figure will not be reached for some time to come."

"The county supervisors resolution made reference to city, township, village, state and private agencies which were 'already performing duties' which the health department would perform, thus causing an 'overlapping or duplication' of duties," Dr. Berman added, "There is no city, village, or township health department in Madison county that is recognized by the Illinois Department of Public Health. The Madison Clinic which employs two full time and two half time nurses and serves five counties, besides Madison, is to be closed at an early date."

Dr. Berman said, "A Health Department will work with all voluntary health organizations such as those mentioned in the resolution. The County Health Department would work in cooperation with Madison County volunteer health organizations such as Heart Disease Center, Tuberculosis, Cerebral Palsy and others in an attempt to prevent duplication of services. "Voluntary agencies in counties that have Health Departments find that they can do their work more effectively. The Madison County Tuberculosis Association and the Madison County Heart Association are actively campaigning for the Madison County Health Department."

Budget Set At $200,000
In answer to the statement of the Board that office space and facilities of the Health Department would come out of money "over and above" the budget, Dr. Berman said, "These items would be included in the annual budget, not to exceed $200,000, subject to the approval of the county board." He also said, "The Department would be concerned with preventive measures rather than the diagnosing and treatment of disease, and the department tax would have no bearing on 'the present state' of Madison county finances because it is a separate and independent tax, apart from Madison county's general fund."

The Board's resolution states that the County Health Department would have jurisdiction and precedence over city or village health departments, regardless of the desire or wishes of local city or village authorities. The same way in which it was established or continued to maintain it. The County Health Department would have no power to dictate any personnel policy to city councils or village boards. A city or village may ask for services from County Health Department," the medical society president stated.

"The resolution complained that a detailed report has never been furnished to the board of supervisors by the proponents of the proposition as to the number of employees to be hired and the nature of the services they will perform."

Dr. Berman said, "The establishment of the number and category of County Health Department workers will be the concern of the Madison County Board of Health which will be established after the resolution passes, and will be set up under 'home rule'."

"As to services," Dr. Berman said, "Public Health bookkeeping would be provided, indicating and other things. The County level of immunization, as related to communicable disease, is nonexistent. Restaurant inspection in Madison county is decidedly inadequate. "Also inspection and control of private water supplies, which is nonexistent now, would be established. Communicable disease control, environmental sanitation, including insect and rodent control, maternal and child health, health education, a laboratory which would provide specimen analysis and biological services, dental health, and health services for the aged."

"In addition to supervising the annual budget of the Madison County Health Department, the county board of supervisors would have the responsibility of passing appropriate county ordinances to fortify the position of the Board of Health. The chairman of the board of supervisors also appoints the eighteen Board of Health which disposes the statement that the County has no control," Dr. Berman pointed out.

He also said, "Furthermore, the Illinois Department of Public Health will not 'direct the offices' of the Madison County Health Department but would act in an advisory capacity to the Madison County Board of Health. Grant-in-aid funds are available from the State Health Department which also sets up minimum qualifications for full-time public health employees of the Madison County Health Department. The State cannot hire or fire or establish policies of the County Health Department. This would be a responsibility of the Madison County Board of Health."
